NORTHERN TRIBUNE.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF CHEBOYGAN.

THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1885.

THE STATE TICKET.

The Nominations at Lansing Yesterday.
LANSING, March 11.—The Republican convention held here to-day was large and harmonious. Judge Thomas M. Cooley was renominated for Justice of the Supreme Court, and Charles S. Draper, of East Saginaw, and Judge A. V. McAlvey, of Manistee, for Regents of the University. The nominations give great satisfaction here, and the ticket is pronounced a strong one. R.

THE CITY.

Who will be the next Marshal?

Next Tuesday is St. Patrick's day.

The market is well supplied with fresh fish.

Frank Shepherd arrived home Friday night.

Wertheimer Bros. have a new ad. in this issue.

O. S. Heyden, of Indian River, was in town Monday.

J. M. French returned from Detroit Tuesday evening.

Regular examination of teachers Friday, March 27th.

J. B. Adams returned from Detroit Saturday evening.

The citizens' ticket failed to materialize on election day.

Friday morning it was 20° below zero at Sault Ste. Marie.

For a piece of good advice see first advertisement in the paper.

No trouble to write up locals as fast as you can get on them this week.

The wife of Ben Rabideaux presented him with a son yesterday afternoon.

An effort is being made to organize a tent of the Knights of the Maccabees.

The St. Ignace Republican has moved into new and more commodious quarters.

Considerable work is being done on the machinery of the propeller Messenger.

Frank McIntyre went over to St. Ignace Saturday night and returned yesterday morning.

Miss Mary Frost, who has been visiting friends at Pontiac and Detroit, returned home last evening.

Joe F. Moloney, formerly of this place is President of a new Democratic organization at Sault Ste. Marie.

W. L. Martin, R. F. Smith, and A. G. McCoy, of Bay City, were registered at the Grand Central Tuesday.

A tight board fence has been placed between Moloney Bros. brewery and bottling works as required by law.

A barber shop has been opened in the building formerly occupied as a fish market adjoining Lynn's meat market.

The new library of the Congregational Sunday school has arrived, and the books will be put in circulation next Sunday.

Presiding Elder Rev. L. P. Davis arrived Friday night and conducted the services at the M. E. Church Sunday evening.

The present board of Trustees hold their last meeting to-night, and their successors their first meeting Tuesday evening.

Messrs. W. L. Martin and R. F. Smith of Bay City, will locate in our city as dealers in soft and hardwood lumber. Their headquarters will be at the Grand Central for the summer.

The residence of A. C. Tefft, editor of the Alpena Pioneer, was destroyed by fire Monday night. About half of his household goods were saved. Loss $4,000, with no insurance. We sympathize with Bro. Tefft in the loss of his elegant home.

W. S. Humphrey has sold his horse stranger to outside parties and he was shipped this morning. The horse showed up much better than the parties expected and we understand paid a good long price for him. Mr. Humphrey also shipped his mare, Mollie Harris, to Chicago this morning, where she will be under the care of the celebrated trainer Knappack McCarthy.

Regular meeting of Benton Lodge A. O. U. W. next Monday evening.

Protect your eyes by wearing colored glasses. You can get the kind you need at Fexer's.

The regular meeting of the G. A. R. postponed from last Thursday evening, will take place to-night. A full attendance is desired.

It is safe to say that less money was spent on Monday's election by the candidates than at any election in Cheboygan for some years.

The Allegan Journal and Tribune entered upon its thirtieth volume last week. It is as bright and frisky as a two year old in a clover patch.

The Mackinac Island correspondent of the St. Ignace Republican, compliments Prof. Eugene Lyons highly on his success as teacher of the Island cornet band. If there is any music in them Gene will draw it out.

The "Downtowners" were up in force Monday night to help paint the town a bright crimson, but the "oh, be joyful" didn't flow free enough to enthrall them to any extent.

At the Republican caucus Thursday evening J. B. McArthur, Henry Erratt, and Frank Shepherd were appointed as the Republican village committee for the ensuing year.

Robert Robinson returned from New York Saturday evening. He reports the lumber market in the East as very quiet, about the only demand being for hardwood lumber.

William T. Vanderbilt received a letter from his brother B. J. Vanderbilt, who has been living at Mt. Morris, N. Y. since leaving Cheboygan, stating that he was about starting for Dakota.

The strong wind last Monday made the tall smoke stack on Smith & Adams dry kiln shake and crack, they were quite alarmed fearing it would fall every minute, but it stood the gale.

We learn the projectors of electric light in Cheboygan are meeting with every encouragement that could be expected. The time is near at hand when we shall be brought out of darkness.

Mr. Chas. S. Ramsay, a Springfield boy before the war, now a substantial business man of Cheboygan, Mich., is here spending a few days among relatives and friends.—Springfield Globe-Republican.

At Tom Borrell's camp one day last week 103 logs were hauled in two loads. The logs would scale about nine to the 1,000. The haul was three miles and the boys think it has not been scooped this winter.

Jim Myers, of Monroe township, was down Tuesday and says the roads were the worst of the winter, and that is saying a good deal. Some drifts would hold a horse up, and it was almost impossible to break a road.

Monday's storm blockaded the railroad to such an extent that the up train on that day was abandoned at Otsego Lake. The snow plow went down with four engines and Tuesday's trains came through on time.

John R. Clark, the noted temperance lecturer, whom we spoke of two weeks ago, writes that he will be in Cheboygan the forepart of April in the cause of temperance. Among others he will give his popular lecture, which the public speak so highly of.

Mr. J. W. Britton, of Bois Blanc Island, came over to town on Tuesday morning. He reports that about eighty dwellings have been built to the present time on the island, but only a few families remained there during the winter. He says he has seen only two women since last November until he came over to our city.

A man, (whom we will call Smith, because that is not his name, presented a petition to a prominent young business for his signature. The applicant was a stranger to him, and he enquired who he was. Smith replied: "Perhaps you don't know me, but you know my wife, well; she lives in the — block." They say you could have bought a machine shop for about 15 cents if you had been on the spot.

Mens', boys' and youths' hats at Rap & LaPres only 25 cents each.

W. R. Keasey, of Chicago, was at the Michigan Exchange Wednesday.

About sixty fishing shanties are on the ice in this vicinity. The catch is pronounced good.

Fexer the jeweler has just received a complete line of colored specs and eye-glasses—including some very fine ones.

I. S. Cooper started out yesterday morning on an eleven mile jaunt to enjoy what he calls sport—fishing through the ice.

Charles Adams, engineer at the water works, will occupy the second floor of the water works building as a residence when completed.

J. B. Adams has just put a new desk in his office which is a model place of furniture and a credit to the workmen in his establishment.

If you have not already signed the remonstrance against the organization of the proposed new county, make it your business to do so at once.

The pastor of the M. E. Church, Rev. H. C. Northrup, will take for his text Sabbath evening, John 9:41 "If ye were blind, ye should have no sin."

The charming little actress Laura Dainty, in a mountain Pink, is coming through Northern Michigan and we trust Cheboygan is on her route.

Next Monday an annular eclipse of the sun will occur, and will be visible as a partial eclipse throughout North America. Get your smoked glasses ready.

The forty-eighth Congress is a thing of the past, now if the twenty state legislatures that are in session would quit tinkering with the laws we believe business would revive.

A. Metheny, who keeps a general store at the head of Black Lake, Waverly township, came down Monday. The worst storm of the season prevailed on that day and he says the ride was a terrible one.

The Cheboygan ministers will hold their next Monday morning meeting at Rev. Willis G. Clark's. Rev. H. Northrup will lead in a discussion of the topic, "The dangers of the skating rink as a place of amusement."

The advertisement of the firm of Post & Mills will be found in our columns to-day. This house carries one of the heaviest stocks in Northern Michigan and are prepared to quote bottom prices on everything in their line.

The Ladies' Relief Society are indebted this week to Mrs. Fexer and Mrs. O. M. Clement for articles of clothing, and to Rindskoff Bros. for 7 jersey coats for boys, 5 heavy Mackinaw shirts, 3 cotton shirts, 3 pairs of pants, 1 vest and 2 caps.

William Spies, who lives on H. A. Blake's farm in Grant township, had the misfortune to have one of his feet badly jammed by his sleigh slowing against it. It was very painful, but our informant says he never winced, and showed great nerve.

Moses DeGowin will, on Monday next, open a new grocery in the building formerly occupied by his brother, I. E. DeGowin, at the east end of the bridge. The location is a good one, and Mr. DeGowin proposes to carry a full stock of everything in the grocery and provision line.

Representative Hampton writes that the bills for incorporating the city of Cheboygan and that for the organization of the proposed new county will be considered by the committee on Thursday March 19th, on which occasion the friends and opponents of both measures will have a hearing.

Lars Larsen was brought down to the Sanitarium from Waverly township on Monday, sick with fever. The drive of some twenty miles was made through a fearful storm, and it is a wonder that the old gentleman survived the journey. Dr. Berdan has succeeded in breaking the fever, and says he is progressing favorably.

Oliver Boucha and a neighbor named St. Antoine, of the township of Grant, came near "climbing the golden stairs" one day last week. The two men were engaged in sorting potatoes in Boucha's root house and had a kettle of coals to keep their fingers warm from which both were overcome and narrowly escaped suffocation. It was several days before they recovered from the results. The practice of keeping live coals in a close room is a common but dangerous one.

Seems to be a prevailing custom to get full nowadays after polls close on election day.

Some of the defeated politicians are still looking about to see who their friends are.

Frank Choate, the lessee of the Mullet Lake House, left last week for a more congenial climate.

Wertheimer Bros. will stretch an advertising banner across the street from their store, soon.

A few more days of soft weather will knock the bottom all out of the roads in the village for hauling.

The third floor of the Kessler block is being used to string gill nets preparatory to the opening of navigation.

Read the Star Clothing House advertisement in this issue. The boys are cutting things wide open this spring.

Penney & Frost announce another of their special sales for Saturday next. The sales have become very popular with buyers and always attract a big crowd.

It is merely guess work to make dates for the opening of navigation. Ice never was stronger than at present, and the end of cold weather is not yet. Navigation will open the latter part of April.

Erratt & Spiller have their boring apparatus in readiness on A. W. Westgate's premises to bore down for a flowing well soon as weather will permit. They expect to strike it 25 feet down. They have considerable work on hand as soon as it opens up and gets milder.

Frank Byrnes, employed in the lumber woods near Otsego Lake for an Alpena firm, had his left foot jammed by a falling tree. He was brought up on the freight train yesterday and taken to the Sanitarium. Dr. Berdan amputated four toes on the injured foot. He held a yearly ticket, and this is the second time he has been in the institution on it.

We made our first visit to the thriving little city of Cheboygan last week and found everybody there quite as anxious for the coming of spring and spring trade as we are in Petoskey. We were lucky in striking the Grand Central Hotel which is owned and managed by Mr. J. M. French a careful, polite, and genial host who has made his house deservedly popular with all the traveling public.—Petoskey Record.

Fexer the jeweler makes a specialty of spectacles and eye glasses. Has the only complete line, i. e. every regular number made, of both near and far sight in northern Michigan. Fits them in steel, nickel, silver, gold and other style frames. Makes fine goods the main feature of this department. Fills orders for special glasses having to be made to order, on few days notice. Refits broken lenses and does all repairing in this line correctly.

Mr. Robert Somerville, the efficient and popular chief clerk in the office of the general passenger agent of the Chicago & Alton railroad, has been appointed city ticket and passenger agent of the road. This important position is one that he is admirably qualified to fill.—Chicago Herald.

Mr. Somerville is the son-in-law of Mr. Archibald McArthur, of the firm of W. & A. McArthur, and spent some time in Cheboygan a few weeks ago. His friends here will be glad to learn of his promotion.

Rev. W. G. Clark, of Cheboygan, preached very acceptably morning and evening in this village Sunday last—at the School House in the morning and at the Congregational church in the evening. His sermons were practical and full of heavenly zeal and replete with wisdom and instruction, and could not but impress his hearers with a sense of reverence for the truths he uttered, and lead them to think seriously on those things connected with their eternal welfare.—Gaylord Herald, March 5.

Hotel runners at Mackinaw City have been making a nuisance of themselves about the depot on the arrival of trains by their boisterous conduct. On Friday evening James Fox, agent of the M. C. R. R. at that place, ordered one of them, a burly negro named Said West, out of the waiting room, and instead of obeying the order he struck Fox a terrible blow which put the railroad man's optics in mourning. Fox rallied and used up a fine lantern on West's head, but with little effect. A complaint was made before Justice Sutton and West had an examination and was released on $100 bonds, and will have an opportunity of answering for his amusement on the 23d inst.
